Annual Report

Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago

It has been said that change is the only constant, and that adage has never seemed truer than today.

The international headlines are rife with political upheaval and persecution, terror and natural disasters. Here at home, families have been devastated by unemployment and foreclosure; seniors struggle to restore their life savings. The economic recovery lurches, falters, and takes small, halting steps forward.

And the shifting realities in the Arab world offer at least as many new concerns for Israel as they do reasons for optimism.

However, at a time of continual crisis, there is one constant the community can count on that doesn't change—and that is your Jewish United Fund/Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago.

Over the 111 years since this institution's founding, many of our community's needs have evolved and grown. Where we once taught English to new Jewish immigrants, we now teach Hebrew to fourth-generation American Jews; where we formerly housed children in orphanages, we now house seniors in assisted living communities; where we previously fought anti-Semitism in the workplace, we now fight efforts to de-legitimize Israel on college campuses. But throughout the decades, JUF/Federation has been Jewish Chicago's most effective vehicle for coming together as a community to take collective action. We are a steadfast voice for the voiceless, striving tirelessly to serve the most vulnerable people among us: at-risk children, people with disabilities, frail seniors, troubled teens and impoverished families.

When we leverage this community's collective generosity, virtually all things are possible. In 2010, the Jewish United Fund Annual Campaign raised $78.6 million, surpassing the 2009 Campaign by more than $1 million. This is an extraordinary feat by any measure, but at this time of great economic challenge, this communal accomplishment was both heartening and very much needed.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2011, this institution allocated a total of $133,288,551. This includes $49,607,560 through the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago, provided to local agencies and programs that benefit 300,000 Chicagoans of all faiths at every stage of life; $34,916,145 through the Jewish United Fund of Metropolitan Chicago, devoted to overseas needs that benefit 2 million Jews in Israel and 70 countries across the globe; and $48,764,846 allocated to charitable ventures worldwide in partnership with our Donor Advised Continuity Funds, which include Family Philanthropic Funds and Support Foundations.

In addition, through the J-HELP initiative, during fiscal years 2010-2012, we provided our Federation agencies with an aggregate $12 million in critical supplementary resources:

- $4.4 million was devoted to meeting basic human needs—including emergency cash and food for nearly 50,000 community members.
- $5.3 million provided key employment assistance, crisis counseling, care for frail seniors and other critical social services to members of the community.
- $2.3 million funded scholarships making access to Jewish life more affordable, including Jewish daycare, summer camps and 16 local day schools, where 2,700 pupils—66% of enrolled students—receive tuition assistance.

Thanks to the successful 2010 Campaign, we were not forced to make extensive cuts in agency services. However, the final fiscal year 2011 budget outcome nonetheless projected a deficit of $2.2 million, which necessitated some painful cutbacks in allocations. The decision was made to divide the deficit into two parts, reducing allocations by $1.1 million during the remaining months of fiscal year 2011 and addressing the second $1.1 million in fiscal year 2012.

In making these reductions in allocations, three key issues were considered: 1) fiscal responsibility, 2) maintaining our system's capacity to meet the needs of Jews worldwide and 3) ensuring the viability of our local network of agencies. J-HELP's safety net services were exempt from budget cuts.

Overall, allocation reductions amounted to 1.61%, with aggregate cuts at that level for local, national and overseas allocations.

It is our hope that a successful 2011 JUF Annual Campaign will allow us to restore allocations in fiscal 2012, and even grow them in fiscal 2013.

Securing Israel and Our Jewish Community

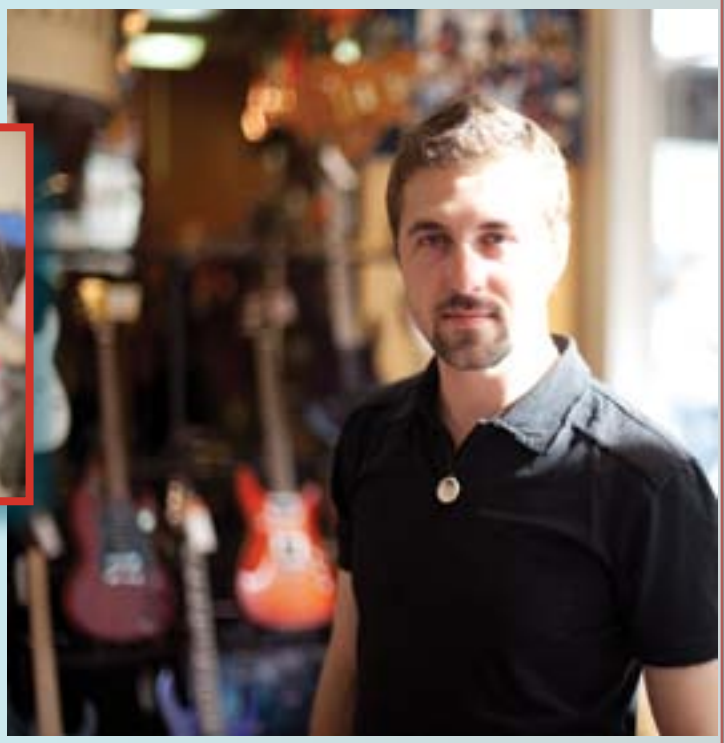
In the fall, Israel suffered the worst fire in its history. Within hours, JUF advanced $500,000 to the Jewish Agency for Israel and the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee to support workers on the ground, who first helped residents flee the flames and then helped survivors rebuild their lives. This disaster provided yet another reminder of why the JUF Annual Campaign is so critical.

JUF also stood at the ready to protect the community from security threats. In October, when packages of deadly explosives addressed to Chicago synagogues were intercepted en route from Yemen, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security quickly contacted JUF to assure that the community was on heightened alert. Year-round, JUF is in constant communication with law enforcement, government officials and leading experts on anti-Semitism, terrorism and security. JUF's Jewish Community Relations Council (JCRC) hosts regular security conferences to help local synagogues, schools and community centers heighten their security.

The sad reality is that security is now a significant line item on the budget of every Jewish institution, and over the last decade JUF has assisted 41 Chicago Jewish agencies, synagogues and schools in successfully applying for $5.9 million in U.S. Homeland Security grants to enhance their safety.

Addressing the threat of a nuclear Iran also is a key institutional priority. Thanks to legislation initiated by JUF, the State of Illinois recently completed the total divestment of its pension fund portfolio of 40 companies with investments in Iran– $133 million total. In 2010, JUF once again sent a delegation of community leaders—and Jewish and non-Jewish college students—to a national advocacy day in Washington, D.C. against a nuclear Iran, and met with senior White House officials and Congressional leaders. Throughout the year, JUF had dozens of meetings concerning this issue with foreign consulates, including a summit with a senior delegation traveling from Bejing that took place at JUF's headquarters.

Another existential threat to Israel's security is a growing campaign to de-legitimize the Jewish State through demonizing rhetoric and calls to boycott, divest from and sanction Israel. In 2010, JUF played a key role in creating the Israel Action Network, a continental rapid-response team to counter these efforts to isolate the Jewish



State and equate it with apartheid-era South Africa. JUF continues to be integrally involved in this multi-million-dollar national project, which is a joint initiative of the Jewish Federations of North America and Jewish Council of Public Affairs.

JUF's Israel advocacy efforts on college campuses continue to intensify, and in 2010 JUF launched The Israel Education Center to oversee JUF's seven major Israel education and advocacy programs on 26 college campuses and with high school students. The Center provides important resources to help tweens, teens, college students and faculty understand and support Israel, making connections for both Jews and non-Jews about the importance of Israel as the Jewish homeland and cultivating a lifelong commitment to the Jewish State.

Over the last decade, programs now coordinated by The Israel Education Center have trained and employed 100 Israel interns at Illinois colleges and universities, and helped organize 1,200 pro-Israel campus programs reaching tens of thousands of students. JUF has engaged professors from 10 key Illinois campuses and brought hundreds of university faculty and students to Israel on specialized missions. Two dozen visiting Israeli scholars have taught hundreds of students and spoken before thousands at public forums at the University of Chicago, University of Illinois-Chicago, Northwestern University and University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign.

At the high school level, thousands of Jewish teens have learned about Israel through JUF-supported programs at Jewish summer camps, public school Israel Clubs, and the intensive Write-On For Israel fellowship program, which last year enrolled the largest group in the program's seven-year history, with 33 participants from 12 area high schools. The 150+ Write-On alumni have gone on to become JCRC/Hillel Israel Interns, Lewis Summer Interns, camp counselors and vocal pro-Israel campus activists.

Recently, JUF also launched an important new outreach program: "Modern Israel: Holy Land and Jewish State" is a unique partnership with the Archdiocese of Chicago, allowing JUF to reach out and connect with a larger population, bringing Catholic teachers to Israel and creating Israel curricula within a variety of disciplines. The goal is to bring these resources to all 27,000 students at Chicago's 40 Catholic high schools, 97% of whom go on to college. This investment will help produce a new generation of leaders with a greater understanding and more positive view of Israel.

Looking to the Future

As we look to the future, it is essential to reinvigorate the community's resource development. In 2011, JUF/Federation rejuvenated The Centennial Campaign, our special capital and endowment initiative, which currently stands at more than $575 million from 3,350 donors.

The Campaign has been re-energized with an influx of 209 gifts—and a focus on engaging younger donors and encouraging more testamentary giving to the Federation's unrestricted endowment.

This investment in JUF/Federation is a sound one; with an "A-1" rating from Moody's, our institution exemplifies constancy and strength. Yet JUF/Federation also is characterized by an innovative spirit, as we continually seek to break new ground in how we serve the community.

State-of-the-art service delivery is undergirded by highly professional research and development. In 2010, JUF/Federation conducted its decennial Chicago Jewish Population Study to examine the demographic composition of the metropolitan Chicago Jewish community, identify unmet needs, and understand the status of community access to existing services.

The demographic information gleaned—including population growth and suburban migration, household structure, the intermarriage rate, effects of the recession on local households and congregational membership—will inform us and our agencies in designing and delivering needed community services. The data also will help fortify the strategic planning process for local congregations and other community organizations.

In the meantime, an overarching analysis of the data shows a robust, growing and diverse local Jewish community with strong connection to Israel, widespread participation in Jewish education and a strong future.

Several findings are worthy of special note:

- Chicago's Jewish community is strong and growing. The number of Jews in the Chicago metro area has grown to 291,800, up 8% from 270,500 in 2000—double the rate of the overall Chicago area population.
- The aging of our Jewish population is counterbalanced by the youth population, with 21% of the population older than 65 and an equal proportion of 21% of the population ages 0-17.
- While intermarriage has grown, from 30% in 2000 to 37% in 2010, the proportion of children in interfaith families who are being reared as exclusively Jewish has jumped to 49%, up from 38% in 2000. This has profound significance for the Jewish future, and reinforces the importance of JUF's "Joyfully Jewish" outreach programs for families with young children.
- At a time when some claim U.S. Jews are estranged from Israel, the study shows that quite the opposite is true: 77% say they feel connected to Israel and fully 50% of Chicago's Jews have visited the Jewish State.

This underscores the value of JUF funding trips to Israel for young people. This year alone, 1,600 Jews ages 18-26 went on free trips to Israel, strengthening their connection to the Jewish homeland, courtesy of Birthright Israel—which receives significant funding from JUF. In addition, 600 young adults received JUF-supported scholarships, grants and gift certificates that helped them afford pivotal, longer-term educational experiences in Israel.

We thus have clear indicators that the emerging generations will have the knowledge, experience and passion to continue to invigorate Jewish life for decades to come, and these findings augur well for the future of Chicago's Jewish community and the ongoing work of the Jewish United Fund/Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago.

The Centennial Campaign

For over 100 years, the Jewish Federation has provided health and human services to those in need. In honor of its Centennial anniversary, the Federation embarked on The Centennial Campaign, a capital and endowment campaign that anticipates community needs in the decades to come.

Together, the Federation and its affiliated agencies and beneficiaries have selected a wide range of projects that address the evolving needs of a diverse community, offering contributors an opportunity to make a meaningful gift at many levels.

The names of qualifying Centennial Campaign donors will be engraved in stone on a newly constructed Centennial Wall in the Jewish Federation's new lobby, echoing the beauty, history, and meaning of the walls of Jerusalem.

The Centennial Campaign offers a variety of gift-planning opportunities:

- Centennial Continuum Projects provide donors the opportunity to fund high-priority capital or programmatic initiatives. These include special naming opportunities.
- Campaign Continuity Funds sustain a donor's annual gift to the Jewish United Fund in perpetuity, providing crucial support for Federation initiatives, at home and abroad, today and for generations to come.
- Endowment Funds, the most flexible of the Endowment gifts and the only source of emergency resources, enable the JUF/Federation to respond to crises and opportunities whenever and wherever they occur.
- Agency and Day School Endowment Gifts ensure that the network of services that are the lifeblood of our community will be available to future generations.
- Income for Life Continuity Funds provide a donor or his/her loved ones with income payments throughout their lifetimes and sustain the Jewish community for future generations.

Federation's experienced gift-planning professionals will be pleased to discuss the tax-advantaged ways to structure a Centennial Campaign charitable gift with you and your advisers. For more information, please call (312) 357-4853 or email, legacy@juf.org.

These foundations and funds provide the donors and their families the opportunity to participate in the distribution of charitable grants in cooperation with the Jewish Federation. The donors are also ensured that their charitable activities will continue beyond their lifetimes, while enjoying the maximum tax benefits in the current year.

Donor-Advised Programs

Deciding how to meet charitable obligations can be confusing and overwhelming. The Jewish Federation's Donor-Advised Funds can help by reducing the complexity and paperwork associated with charitable giving, allowing you to focus on your philanthropic goals and values.

Through these opportunities you can build a lasting testament to your name, your family and the causes you hold most dear. It's a legacy that will carry on l'dor v'dor, from generation to generation.

Donor-Advised Funds

Establish a Donor-Advised Fund in your name or in honor of a loved one with a $1,000 minimum contribution. The fund earns tax-free income while you recommend distributions to any public charity - secular and religious.

Supporting Foundations

Individuals, corporations or families who commit substantial resources to philanthropy may establish a Supporting Foundation affiliated with the Jewish Federation. Functionally similar to a private family foundation but with more attractive benefits,, a Supporting Foundation operates under a board of directors jointly appointed by the donor and Jewish Federation and enables the donor to engage future generations, fulfilling a philanthropic vision.

Bequests

The Jewish Federation and Jewish United Fund gratefully recall those -- may their memory be a blessing — who have left the posthumous mark of their compassion upon our community through a bequest to the Jewish Federation or Jewish United Fund during the preceding year.

During the year ended June 30, 2011, the Jewish Federation and Jewish United Fund were advised of the following bequests. The farsighted and dedicated people making these gifts have fulfilled their commitment to ensure the future welfare of the Jewish community in Metropolitan Chicago, Israel and throughout the world. Money received from these bequests is added to the Federation Endowment Fund. The income produced by the Endowment Fund will provide over $8 million to the support of our agencies during the coming year.
